Speaker Biographies

Dr. Marcela Cardona received her Doctor in Dental Surgery (DDS) degree from New York University. After graduating she decided to expand her knowledge in the field of Prosthodontics and implant dentistry by completing specialty training from Nova Southeastern University.

As a Prosthodontist, she strongly believes every patient deserves to feel confident and proud about their smile, and works hard to deliver exceptional dental care to all of her patients through an empathetic and individualized holistic approach. She specializes in highly esthetic restorations, full mouth and implant rehabilitations. Following graduation from her specialty program, Dr. Cardona continued to gain knowledge in advanced digital dentistry, incorporating the highest levels of technology to deliver predictable and precise care for her patients.

When she's not in clinic creating beautiful smiles, Dr. Cardona loves to explore the world with her husband and sons, immersing herself in different cultures and experiences.
